DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

- I. Group I, claim(s) 1-23, drawn to a methylphenidate solution comprising methylphenidate and at least one pharmaceutically acceptable organic acid.
- II. Group II, claim(s) 24-34, drawn to a method of treating a patient for a disorder treatable by methylphenidate which comprises administering a therapeutically effective amount of methylphenidate in a liquid solution.
- III. Group III, claim(s) 35-49, drawn to a method of producing a chemically stable methylphenidate solution comprising determining a dosage of methylphenidate; dissolving the methylphenidate and organic acid in a solvent system.

An international application should relate to only one invention or, if there is more than one invention, the inclusion of those inventions in one international application is only permitted if all inventions are so linked as to form a single general inventive concept (PCT Rule 13.1). With respect to a group of inventions claimed in an international application, unity of invention exists only when there is a technical relationship among the claimed inventions involving one or more of the same or corresponding special technical features. The method for determining whether the requirement of unity of invention is satisfied is described as follows: unity of inventions exists only when there is a technical relationship among the claimed inventions involving one or more of the same or corresponding special technical features. The expression "special technical features" is defined in PCT Rule 13.2 as meaning those technical features that define a contribution which each of the inventions, considered as a whole, makes over the prior art, and therefore constitutes a "special technical feature", should be considered with respect to novelty and inventive step.

The inventions listed as Groups I and II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: a methylphenidate solution comprising methylphenidate and at least one pharmaceutically acceptable organic acid is disclosed in US Patent 6,127,385. Nasal solutions containing methylphenidate dissolved in a non-aqueous solvent and an organic acid is disclosed in Col. 4, lines 49-63. Therefore, US Patent 6,127,385 discloses a methylphenidate solution comprising methylphenidate that is dissolved in a non-aqueous solvent and one organic acid that is identical to the solution described in Invention I.

As a result, no special technical feature exists among the different groups of inventions because Invention I fails to make a contribution over the prior art due to a corresponding lack of novelty (i.e., the composition of Invention I is already known in, and therefore anticipated by, the prior art). In conclusion, there is a lack of unity of invention, as Inventions I, II or III do not relate to, and are not so linked as to form, a single general inventive concept.

Conclusion to Restriction Requirement

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of an invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Due to the complex nature of the instant restriction requirement, a written restriction requirement was necessitated. See MPEP § 812.01.
